

Gavin Hattersley Chief Executive Officer

Gavin Hattersley is Chief Executive Officer of MillerCoors, the second-largest brewery in the United States, bringing American consumers an unmatched selection of the highest quality beers, flavored malt beverages and ciders, steeped in centuries of brewing heritage. As the head of its U.S. business unit, Hattersley also sits on the Executive Leadership Team for the Molson Coors Brewing Company, the world's third-largest global brewer.

Prior to his current role, Hattersley was Global Chief Financial Officer for Molson Coors and served as a member of the MillerCoors Board of Directors. Before Molson Coors, Hattersley was Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer for MillerCoors, where he was responsible for establishing strong financial management and commercial disciplines for the company, as well as reporting financial performance to the two parent companies of MillerCoors – Molson Coors and SABMiller plc – and to global analysts and investors.

Previously, Hattersley was Senior Vice President, Finance, for Miller Brewing Company. He came to Miller from SAB Limited in Johannesburg, South Africa, where he held several financial management positions before becoming CFO in 1999. Prior to joining SAB Limited, he spent almost 10 years at Barloworld Limited.

Hattersley earned both a bachelor's degree and an honors degree in accounting from the University of South Africa.

Hattersley is on the Board of Directors of the Penfield Children's Center of Milwaukee and the Economic Club of Chicago.
